LEAGUE-THE STANDING OF THE CLUBS. About 6,000 people were present at Washington Park, Brooklyn, yesterday to witness the game of baseball between the Brooklyn and the Athletic clubs. Caruthers was in fine form and pitched with telling effect, not a hit being made off his delivery until the sixth inning. Weyling was not so fortunate. Brilfant plays were numerous, and the onlookers were folly and boisterous. All the home players were enthusiastically cheered. The nine received a floral borseshoe several feet high. Burdock also received a handsome pillow of flowers and a gold medal. Bauer played a phenomenal game at second base. The Brooklyns outbatted the visitors and won with case.

Brooklyn nine took the lead by scering one run in the second inning. Foutz made a hit, stole to second, and scored on McClellan's hit to right field. The home players increased their lead with four more runs in the third inning, and the onlookers applicated in a true baseball way. Hits by Pinkney, Caruthers and McClellan, errors by Gleason and Bauer, and a force hit by O'Brien, made the runs.

Errors by Pinkeer and Bushong were responsible for the run scored by the Athletics in the fourth inning. Stovey took first on an error by Pinkner, and stealing to second, scored on a wild throw by Bushong. The home players scored two more runs in the seventh inning and drew further ahead. O'Brien made a hit and Caruthers got to first on an error by Gleason. Each stole a base, and both scored on a hit past second base by Smith. The score was as fol-

GAMES IN OTHER CITIES.

Cmpire-Mr. Daniels,

Detroit, Mich., July 21.-It was a singging match to-day, and the champions had the better of it. It was also a wrangling match and Anson carried off the honors by a large majority. Umpire Kelly did nothing to stop it. The score was as follows:

Basehits-Detroit 17, Chicago 9. Errors-Detroit 2, Pitchers Conway and Van Haltren. Umpire-Mr. Kelly.

Washington, July 21.-The Washingtons, by weak batting in the second inning, lost the only chance they had to detent the Bosions to-day. There were three men on bases in this moing with none out, but the batsmen could not put the ball out-ide the diamond. The batting was light on both sides and the flelding uncertain. A base on first inning. Nash's single and Hornung's triple carned one in the fourth, and another hit in the sixth, tided by giaring errors, gave Boston their third run of the game.

Basehits-Boston 4, Washington 4. Errors-Boston 4. Washington 3. Pitchers-Sowders and O'Day. Umpire-Mr. Valentine.

Indianapolis, July 21.-The Indianapolis and Pittsburg clubs played the final game of their present series to-day visiting nine won with ridiculous case. Healy pitched with little effect, the Pittsburg batsmen knocking the ball all over the field. The score was as appended :

Pittsburg 0. Pitchers-Healy and Staley.

Cincinnati. July 21 .- To-day's game was won by Cincinnati's superior batting, as they hit Porter's delivery almost at will. Nicol scored five hits out of as many turns at the bat. But three hits were secured by the visitors and one was a more scratch. Attendance, 2,400. The score was as appended :

HUMAN NATURE AT A REVIVAL. SCENES AT THE JOHN STREET MEETING.

PECULIAR PERSONS AND INTERESTING INCI-DENTS-MANY CONFESSIONS.

The words "revival" and "camp meeting" in variably bring to mind scenes where human nature can be studied freely, and the series of revival meet-ings that is in progress in the old John Street Method-ist Episcopal Church is no exception to the rule. The Rev. Thomas Harrison, who is best known as the "boy preacher," is perhaps the first one to attract the attention of the visitor there. He is a cleanshaven, small, though compacily built young man, thirty-four years old. He is somewhat round-shouldered, wears a Prince Albert coat, closely buttoned, no matter how warm the day; is quick in his move-ments and is never at rest. When on the platform he paces up and down with his eyes fixed on the congregation and a smile on his face. He seems to see and read each person in his audience, while he keeps everything and everybody "a-going," never allowing a moment's pause for any reason. He will call for a prayer, and while the "Amen" is upon the supplicant's lips, he will call out the number of a song which he starts while the people are finding the place. Over and over again he starts up the chorus, never allowing a moment's break, and keeping time to the music, clapping his hands, waving his arms or shouting out the words. It is marvellous how he seems to inspire his hearers with enthusiasm, and Now he makes them shout or weep at his will.

Dr. Bowdish, the pastor of the church, is on the platform with him, a tall, well-shaped man, with sandy side-whiskers and a clean chin, always wearing a standing collar and a spotless white necktie. He is not so demonstrative as Mr. Harrison, but with quiet dignity he smiles and says " Amen" often, slowly clapping his hands. One other face is always to be found on the platform-that of the young woman presiding at the piano. This is Miss Annie I. Shera a graduate of Vassar College. It is interesting to see how quickly she recognizes the tune that Mr. Harrison is starting, and plays it, no matter what key he happens to hit upon. This is all the more surprising when one learns that many of the songs she never heard before Mr. Harrison began his work in this church, of which she is a member.

From the platform, one casts his eyes over the crowded church. Here indeed is a field for study. About three-quarters of the way up the left aisle, sits an old gray-haired man who is so "full of glory" that he can't keep still, but shouts it out on every available occasion. Next to him sits another man who can't keep still. He is soon guided down the aisie and out of the church, for conversions while under the influence of drink are not apt to be lasting. Not far away sits a man who is known in the meetings as " Buffale Bill." He has long curly hair, which falls on his shoulders, a finely-cut face and a laud His particuar theme is "Praise the Lord!" and this he exclaims both in season and out of season. He is a street preacher by profession, and is often seen on the City Hall steps. In the "Amen" row sits a young man with glasses, who has but one word to That is "Victory!" When occasion demands he impressively raises his right hand and exclaims in a loud voice, "Victory!" He says that he has been inspired by Harrison's preaching, and he is going to preach himself. He hasn't made up his mind when to begin. A slender youth with an innocent face and curly hair walks aimlessly up and down the aisles, offering song books to the people and holding out his hand for the "thirty-five cents please."

But who are those who are converted; and where do they come from? It is a question not easily They are men and women, old and young. answered. answered. They are men and women, on and young some of them are serious, thoughtful-looking menmen evidently clerks in stores, bookkeepers and cread boys, while some are evidently tramps. Here as everywhere there are those who the workers say have been pronthent in a mest every revival that has been hid in this city for a score of years. These cases are few, however, and the men are frequently recognized by the evangelists.

ELECTRIC WIRES SEEN FROM TWO SIDES. WHAT THE ELECTRICAL BOARD INTENDS TO DO

-SERVING NOTICE ON ONE COMPANY. President Eugene T. Lynch, of the United States Illuminating Company, was seen yesterday afternoon by a Tribune reporter, and in answer to a question ncerning the condition of the case between the company and the Board of Electrical Control, he said: The hearing before the Attorney-General at Albany, requested by the Board of Electrical Control as to having the charter of the United States Illuminating Company vacated, was held at Albany yesterday afternoon An elaborate argument was presented by Commissione Gibbens and replied to by General O'Brien. The answer of the company, verified by mytelf as president, set forth the company's rights in the premises, and gave its reasons, supported by references to the stat-utes, why such a matter was not properly before the Attorney-General, and, if he should decide that it was properly before him, the reasons why he should disaiss the application. The Attorney-General retained the papers and will probably render his decision in a few days. The other application of the Board, rethe right of the Board to compel companies owning poles in this city to permit other companies having no poles in the streets to use them, was at the request of Commissioner Gibbens postponed indefinitely, although the United States Illuminating Company, by its counsel, was prepared for argument on that question, and urged that the Attorney-General should proceed with President Lynch declined to express any opinion about the case or the probable decision of the Attorney-General. John Notman, counsel for the company, claimed that the company was authorized by law on May 3, 1888, to erect and use the poles and wires com plained of, that these do not restrict or obstruct the street, and that they do not interfere with any right of the public. He charged that the proceedings against the company by the Commissioners is contrary to law, and that the Commissione's have entered into a written ontract with a private corporation, known as the Consolidated Telegraph and Electrical Subway Company, to give them a monopoly of the streets of New-York for electrical lighting. He also charged the Commissioners with permitting o her companies to consaid that the scheme of the subway was utterly impracticable for their use, and said that the Unit d State: Illuminating Company were ready to put their wires underground just as soon as a scheme for burying them shall be devised which will meet their approval.

Superintendent Richardson, of the Bureau of Incumbrances, yesterday served official notice upon the United States Illuminating Company, that in a corchiled states infiminishing company, that in a confi-ance with the opinion of the Corporation Counsel he would proceed to remove all "dead" poles and ele-trical ixtures. Certain of the company's appliances had been designated by the Board of Electrical Courof as "dead." The Superintendent gives the company the usual time to show that the Board's statement is incorrect.

TRYING TO OUTWIT EACH OTHER.

Daniel E. Bandmann, who has been ignominiously dubbed the "ten-cent tragedian," on account of his having played in the dime museums, sailed for Englan1 westerday on the Umbria. Bandmann was the first miliator in this city of Richard Mansfield in the duar imitator in this city of Alexandra Anademia in the operation of "Jekyli and Hyde." When he heard Mansfeld was going to play in London, he engaged the Opera Comique for four weeks, beginning August 6, meany a month prior to the date set for Mansfeld's appearance. How eleverly Man-field outwitted his imitator by stealing away with his company on the City of Rome first told in The Tribune ten days ago. When Bandmann heard of this, he tried to get a few days' carlier pening, but it is believed he has falled to do so, as Mrs. Bernard Beere, who is now playing at the Opera Comique refused to give up any of her time. As Mansfield is now on the ground with his company, and as Bandmann has to engage his, unless Miss Louise Bandet, his leading lady, who left a fortuight ago, has already done so, he may be trusted not to let his unscrupulous competitor get a prior production. Mansfield has the advantage of the influence of Henry Irving, which it is almost needless to say is powerful in London. All wha have any regard for originality, fair play and ordinary professional courtesy will wish Mr. Mansfield success-

O'Cennor and Joseph Keegan, of Engine Company No. 14, guilty of stealing coltars and cutts from Earl & Wilson's, after he fire in "The Century" Building. The Commissioners were unanimous in their decision, and the two men are sentenced to be dismissed from the service. In reaching this conclusion, the Commissioners state that they have been seriously obstructed by the misdirected and inmistabable bias upon the part of certain of the wirnesses in favor of firemen accused of misconduct, and as a sample of the extreme to which this bias has een carried they cited the testimony of a patrolman of the Fire Insurance Pairol. The report closes thus: To a uniformed force whose record entitles it to be udged as exceptionally conrageous, faithful and hones offences such as that contained in the charges agains FConnor and Keegan, should be and doubtless are ex-O'Connor and Keegan, should be and domin's act ob-pectally regingmant; but the Commissioners cannot help expressing sincere regret that twenty-four hours (mak-ling all due allowance for it being holiday time) were allowed to elapse before an investigation was made as to the facts alleged against O'Connor and Keegan, and before either the Commissioners or the Chief of De-partment were made cognizant of Little's most serious seconstitue.

A VERDICT AGAINST KATE YOUNG. an inquest was held yesterday in the case of Tim-othy Sullivan, who was pushed under a wagon at No. 26 Rector-st. by Kate Young, on July 12, and intantly killed. Eyewitnesses gave testimony showing that a quarrel was going on between Sullivan and Mrs. Young, when the latter pushed him to the street. The driver of the truck under which Sullivan fell, they said, could not avoid the accident. The jury returned a verilict exonerating the driver, and holding the woman responsible for the death. They said, how-ever, that the act was unintentional. Mrs. Young was remanded to the Tombs without bail.

INSPECTOR WILLIAMS ISSUES SOME TICKETS. There was some amusement at Police Headquarters esterday, caused by one of Inspector Williams's praccal lokes. It was given out on Friday that the service of three politication were needed by members of the 71st Regiment, who were going to visit the Bull Run battleheld, and Detectives Cooper, McCord and Webb engerly applied for the job. Inspector Williams sail they were the proper men to go on such a trip, and they were told to be at headquarters early yesterday morning. carrying a scaled note addressed to "Frank Rice, Old Ferry House, Weehawken." Each note contained a ticket printed as follows; "Admit one to the Whale.
